Why Play?

"Play is essential to development because it contributes to the cognitive, physical, social, and emotional well-being of children and youth"

(Ginsburg, 2013)

Top Reasons for Play:

- helps children learn about the world and society
- promotes problem-solving
- promotes creativity, imagination, cognitive, social, and emotional development
- can be used to deepen understanding of classroom content
- enhances language and cultural development
- Play is an important part of the classroom because it helps develop the child in ways that other pedagogies and strategies cannot. Play is sure to develop the whole child, not just the cognitive parts.
